

HEARST SEEKS 1,000 ARRESTS

KILLED WIFE AND THEN ENDED
HIS OWN LIFE

Murder and Suicide Followed Deckers' Visit to Friends.

HE WAS VERY JEALOUS.

Girl Companion of Wife Had Just Left Room When He Drew Gun and Fired.

Walter Decker, an employee of the West Shore Railroad, shot and killed his wife and then blew his own brains out in their home in Union Hill, N. J., this afternoon.

The couple lived in a two-family house at Boulevard and Morgan street. Mrs. Decker was young and very pretty. A Miss Mary Brown lived with them.

According to Miss Brown's story the couple had been out visiting friends and returned to their home at 3.45 o'clock. They were talking very earnestly and the kitchen skinned to Miss Brown, who was sitting there, that they would like to be alone for a few minutes.

Miss Brown had scarcely passed the threshold of the room when she heard two shots fired in rapid succession. Decker had shot his wife in the back of the head while her back was turned to him and then placed the revolver to his head and blew out his brains.

The young woman was killed instantly and Decker lived only a few minutes. He was about thirty-five years old and of a very jealous disposition.

WOULD DIE RATHER THAN GO TO ASYLUM

Bride Who Seeks Release from Bloomingdale Called as Witness.

(Special to The Evening World.)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 8.—A fight was begun this afternoon before County Judge last in behalf of Capt. Albert Delano Reid to have his bride, Mrs. Sarah Delano Reid, who he alleges was kidnapped and placed in Bloomingdale Asylum, released from that institution.

Capt. Reid says his wife is sane and illegally kept a prisoner in a madhouse. Lawyer John Dineen, who represents the asylum, called Mrs. Reid to the witness stand and she said her brother had taken her from her husband the day following their marriage and placed her in the asylum. She declared they first took her to her home and then to Bloomingdale.

Mrs. Reid accused her brother Fredrick Delano, who is in a New York banking house, with striking her on the side of the head and she feared her ear drum had been broken.

"Did you take carbolic acid just before you were taken to the asylum?" "Yes, sir."

"What?"

"I would rather be dead than back in the asylum."

"Do you know what it means to attempt to destroy your life?"

"I have constantly attended church and know what it means to try and end my life, but I was driven to it. If they had allowed me to live in peace I would not be here."

Dr. Spika, an alienist, said Mrs. Reid, who was Sarah Delano before her marriage and heiress to a large fortune, showed absolutely no signs of insanity. Further testimony will be given on Friday evening.

COUNT WITTE SLAIN
IN LONDON REPORT

No Apparent Basis for It and Little Credit Given in Any Quarter.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—A report that Count Witte had been assassinated in the Petersburg was persistently reported here today. Attempts to learn the origin of the story failed and little credence was given it in any quarter.

600 BURNED
TO DEATH BY RUSSIAN MOB

Troops Stood By While Victims Met Awful Death in Theatre.

CHILDREN CUT DOWN.

Charged by Troops During a Street Parade and Some Killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 8.—The revolutionary wave continues to subside except in the Caucasus.

As details of what happened throughout European Russia during the week of the revolution arrive, the story grows more revolting. In the Baltic Provinces murder, riot and even the clergy, Catholic and Protestant, participated in the manifestations in favor of the autonomy of the ancient kingdom. In southwestern Russia hardly a city or town escaped Jewish massacres.

At Tomsk, Siberia, according to the latest reports received here, the whole population of 40,000 and the military stood by while six hundred women and children were burned in a theatre.

The Court-House at Tomsk and the Mayor's residence, where the students and revolutionists took refuge from the mob, were burned, and those who tried to fly were killed in the streets.

In Moscow the Social Revolutionists and the Black Hundred and the Cossacks and police fought bloody battles.

The descent of the butchers of Moscow with their knives and axes upon the students was one of the most horrible chapters, but not as pitiful, however, as the attack of the Black Hundred on a procession of school children carrying red flags.

When the children sought to escape a cordon of police barred the way and the youthful martyrs were beaten into insensibility and in some cases were actually torn to pieces.

In the Alexander Garden at Moscow Cossacks lay in ambush in the shrubbery and set upon their victims with whips. Many were beaten to death and others were hardly able to crawl away.

The reports from the Caucasus show there is no immediate prospect of suppressing the present state of anarchy. Battles between Tartars and Armenians continue and the destruction of the railroads and lack of troops make it impossible for the authorities to cope with the situation.

FIVE KILLED IN CRASH OF TRAINS

Boilers of Both Locomotives Burst and Cars Were Telescoped.

(Special to The Evening World.)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 8.—Five persons were killed, ten seriously injured and a score slightly hurt in a head-on collision between a passenger train and a coal train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, near Hunkent Creek, a short distance from this city, this afternoon.

All of the killed were trainmen. The injuries to the passengers were caused by the terrific force of the trains coming together, the engine on the passenger train being forced almost through the baggage car.

The wreck occurred on a sharp curve at a point where the road is a single track. The passenger train, northbound to this city, was tearing along at fifty miles an hour when the freight train, southbound at twenty-five miles an hour, dashed into it.

It is said the freight had mixed orders to remain on a siding. The passenger train had the right of way.

The known dead are the four engineers and the express messenger. They are Frank Poole and H. E. Stickney, engineer and fireman of the passenger train; George Snyder, engineer, and fireman, Frank Ringdorf, and M. J. Graham, the express messenger.

Most of the passengers who were seriously injured were in the smoker directly back of the express car, which was telescoped.

The boilers of both engines blew up at the moment of the collision, destroying the telegraph wires and cutting off communication with the wreck.

When the engines met the freight cars were telescoped and piled high over the locomotive, while the express and baggage cars of the passenger train were telescoped and thrown over the engine. The four engines were killed instantly. So quickly did the collision occur that those who did not even have time to jump.

AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, Nov. 8.

There was an excellent attendance at Aqueduct this afternoon, contrary to the usual traditions that a dull day is to be expected to follow a holiday. The card had a strong drawing attraction, however, and promised the keenest sort of contests. This, combined with the fact that there is only a week more of racing in this State, served to keep the attendance up.

Water Grass in a Drive.

Consistent went to the front at the start of the first race and showed the way, followed by Pasture, Water Grass and Option to the last furlong. There Water Grass closed and in a drive won by a length and a half from Consistent, beating Special License a neck for the place.

Cutter Won by a Length.

Sheenadoh made the early pace, followed by Cutter, Subtle and D'Arkie. They ran this way to the stretch, where Sheenadoh stopped. Cutter and D'Arkie, in the lead, followed by D'Arkie. In the end Cutter held his own and won by a length from D'Arkie, who beat Our Sister a head.

Jocund Closed Strong.

Diamond broke quickly and raced to the front in the third, followed by Monet and Aeronaut. They held this order to the stretch, where Jocund moved up, and, closing strong in the last sixteenth, won by a length. Diamond was a quarter of a length in front of Monet.

Banker in a Drive.

Lord Budge cut out the running with Canon followed by Jack Young and Badger. They ran this way to the far turn, where Canon closed on Lord Budge and they raced head and head to the stretch. There Banker closed strong and taking the lead in the last furlong won by a length from Canon, who beat Quadrille a head for the place.

Birmingham Come Fast.

Ingleside raced to the front and made the pace, followed by Mary Morris and Birmingham. In the stretch Birmingham went to the front and won by a length and a half from Mary Morris, who beat Ingleside three-fourths of a length for the place.

Cloten Made the Pace.

Cloten made the pace to the stretch, followed by Quadrille, Collector, Jessup and Cloten. In the stretch, Cloten leaders died away and Cloten taking the lead won by a length from Toscan, who beat Quadrille a head for the place.

RECOUNT MAY ELECT HEARST,
SAYS IVINS

Tammany Shamelessness at Polls Never Surpassed, He Says.

$1,000,000 WAS SPENT.

IVINS' Remarkable Statement About Political Situation and Outlook.

William M. Ivins, at his headquarters at the Hotel Breslin, about noon today, gave out the following interview:

"I have just had a sound eleven hours sleep, and did not turn over. I took the nomination in the same spirit that I would jump overboard to save a man in distress. I got ashore alive, but exhausted, and I am a little tired and wet myself."

"One of the most astounding revelations of the campaign is the capacity of the average politician to deceive himself. Mr. Hearst's vote is indicative of profound and very largely justifiable dissatisfaction with political managers and with lawless corporate management."

"It stands for a very deep conviction and I believe that it will remain a most potent factor in the community until the law is restored to its supremacy and all men, rich and poor alike, are compelled to respect it."

Pleased at Hearst Protest.

"I am very pleased to think that Mr. Hearst is going to require a recount of the vote. Tammany had at its command not less than a million dollars, and I believe that every purchasable vote was purchased. More than twenty years ago I began to fight the use of money in elections. The necessity for continuing that fight seems greater now than ever. The shamelessness with which Tammany Hall taxed the civil servants and drew upon the resources of Wall Street has never been surpassed. One of the marked features of yesterday's election was the breaking down through the use of money by Tammany Hall of the Hearst election machinery. If Mr. Hearst had had a good working organization behind him he would have been overwhelmingly elected."

The Purity of Elections Lies at the Bottom.

"The purity of elections lies at the bottom, and at the very foundation of Democratic institutions. Mr. Hearst and Mr. Jerome have a great work cut out for them. The judicial investigation of this election will, I believe, prove to be one of the most interesting chapters in the history of American politics. Whether a man differs with Mr. Hearst or not is a very immaterial matter as compared with the necessity for preserving the purity of our elections, and in his efforts for that Mr. Hearst should have the support of every true American."

Upholds His Party.

Question—Does it not appear that the Republican organization has deserted you?

Answer—The Republican organization has not deserted me; it stood by me manfully. The Republicans who deserted me were the associates and supporters of the insurance companies. These men were dominated by the cowardice of purse. There is no evidence of the desertion by the organization, as such, anywhere, but desertions from the so-called stockholders all over, and these people have reason to believe that now if they are capable of being made to believe a thing disinterestedly. But there is a new and independent and incorruptible element in the field that has to be reckoned with in the future, and they cannot escape that reckoning by voting for the representatives of political corruption."
